YOUR BENEFITS

The HPH hydraulic chucks combine the damping properties of hydraulic clamping technology with the high clamping forces of shrinking technology. Thanks to an innovative manufacturing process, the chucks impress due to high torque transmission, ideal damping properties, outstanding system rigidity and a radial run-out accuracy of < 3 µm. In production, these advantages guarantee a high surface finish on the part, significantly higher machining speeds and therefore short machining times. The HPH properties prevent macroscopic flaws on the cutting edge of the tool and extend tool lives.

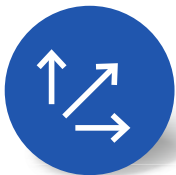

Why choose our products?

Product lines

- 1 Clamping Technology | WTE
- 2 Solid Carbide Tools | MILLER
- 3 Reaming and Countersinking | BECK

All from a single source

At WTE, customers can get everything they need from a single source and take advantage of our specialist knowledge of tooling and processing.

Partnership

The basis of everything we do at WTE is a close, open dialogue with all customers and, as a result, a long-term partnership on an equal footing.

Quality and precision

WTE chucks stand for the highest level of quality and cost-effectiveness, characterized by excellent dimensional accuracy and the highest level of precision.

Standard range

The range of highly capable tools available from stock ensures excellent and reliable results for all machining tasks.

Technology leadership

In the machining of cubic components, WTE is the technology leader worldwide.

On the ground all over the world

Customer focus isn't just a buzzword at WTE – it forms an essential part of our corporate identity. On a global basis.
